

TIPS-2018

Workshop on “Techniques in Physiological Sciences for SAARC Nations”

5th - 7th December 2018
Department of Physiology, AIIMS, New Delhi

Department of Physiology, All India Institute of Medical Sciences, New Delhi, is organizing a 3 days Workshop on “Techniques in Physiological Sciences for SAARC Nations” from 5th to 7th December 2018 at Department of Physiology, AIIMS, New Delhi

The aim of the present workshop is to share the academic expertise of the department in various techniques in physiological sciences with the participants who are expected to gain enough insight during these three days of intensive training to go back to their home Institutes and initiate what has been learnt. The workshop intends to expose around 80 participants in 2-5 techniques of their interest through demonstrations and hands on training for around 15 hours per participant.

Please visit the official website www.tipsaiims.in for further information and online registration for the workshop.