To whom it may concern:

DE NOVO SOFTWARE is the sole manufacturer of FCS Express and it is one of the premier flow cytometry data analysis softwares in the world. It performs quick, robust analysis of thousands of samples containing millions of events. FCS Express produces the best publication quality pictures and charts and allows researchers to present and publish flow cytometry data in a most convenient way. FCS Express is only manufactured in Glendale, California, USA. With the exception of sale through a number of resellers contracted with our company, De Novo Software directly sells FCS Express.
