OFFICE MEMORANDUM

Subject: Rate contracts for commonly used items etc.

It is recalled that rate contracts for many essential medical and items have been issued at AIIMS New Delhi and many rate contracts are under extension due to non-availability of fresh rate contracts. A meeting was held by the Financial Adviser with Senior Faculty of AIIMS wherein it was unanimously expressed by all that Rate Contracts are an effective & cost-effective system which AIIMS has perfected over a period of time and it is most desirable to provide patient care by procurement in a piece-meal manner. Further, it has been observed from data on the Digital Library that even common bulk procurement items are being procured at different rates by various Stores due to non-availability of Rate Contracts for these items vis a vis the past established practices.

It has been confirmed from GeM that currently "Rate Contract" functionality is not available on GeM. However, GeM is in the process of making Rate Contract functionality available for buyers & it is likely to take 6 months' time for this functionality available on GeM.

Accordingly, with the approval of the competent authority, the following instructions are issued for executing Rate Contracts for commonly used items at AIIMS:

- a) For items which are not available on GeM and for which rate contracts have expired or are under extension, fresh rate contracts valid for a period of 1 year be executed on CPP Portal as per provisions enshrined under Rule 147 of GFR which gives full powers to procuring entities to make arrangements for procurement of such items. These new rate contracts should have the provision for further extension of the rate contract by upto 1 year so as to cater to the scenario of new rate contracts not being finalized on GeM or further delay in operationalizing the Rate Contract functionality on GeM.
- b) For items available on GeM but for which Rate Contract is the only viable option for effective procurement viz. items for which consumption patterns vary based on patient specific requirements or items for which definitive consumption trends are not ascertainable or items for which time between demand and delivery is very short thereby not providing adequate time for bidding, etc. - fresh rate contracts valid for a period of 1 year be executed on CPP Portal in view of the non-availability of Rate Contract functionality on GeM. These new rate contracts should have the provision for further extension of the rate contract by upto 1 year so as to cater to the scenario of new rate contracts not being finalized on GeM or further delay in operationalizing the Rate Contract functionality on GeM. Before executing rate contracts for such items, the TSEC shall clearly ascertain and record with reasons why rate contract is the most suitable option for procurement of the said item

- c) For all other common use items available on GeM for which the consumption trends are reasonably ascertainable, staggered delivery contracts valid up to more than two years should be executed on GeM to reduce repeated tendering for the same items.

Due caution must be taken by all procuring entities to ensure compliance with all relevant provisions of GFR 2017 (as amended to date) w.r.t. Make in India preference, limitation on procurement from bidders sharing land borders with India etc. Further, full clause must be incorporated in all fresh rate contracts / staggered delivery contracts. Information regarding all tenders for finalizing rate contracts / staggered delivery must be published on AIIMS website. In addition, all finalized rate contracts / staggered delivery contracts & orders placed against any rate contract must be uploaded on the Stores Digital Library.

The above instructions are issued with the approval of Director AIIMS & are deemed incorporated in the AIIMS Purchase Manual.
